Guest Post from our Director of Music & the Arts

Tormod Tvette Vik: Bringing a modern harmonic language to classic text Tormod Tvette Vik is a Norwegian composer. A consummate musician, he started his musical pursuit at the bright age of 6, studying violin, and continuing with music composition, arranging, musicology, pedagogy and conducting. He worked professionally as a violinist in his own quartet and string orchestra before, as he states in his bio, "dedicating his career to creating music instead." With his extensive, impressive resume and catalogue of works, the world seems to be glad he did... and so are we. Vik's "Come Unto Me" was commissioned by Mark Pope for the University of Park United Methodist Church in Dallas, Texas. Written for SATB and piano, this piece begins acapella, the melody in the soprano. In his text painting in this first section, tasteful dissonances on words like "me" leave you with a certain longing, and "weary" strikes a deep discomfort, quickly releasing the suspension. The piano joins in the second section, flowing through moving eighth note figures. Voices soar melodically above these moving figures, ending with a humbling key change on the word "souls." The voices and piano then change to a slower, homophonic texture, surprising the listeners again with an F minor chord turning to an E major chord, establishing a new key on the word "light." The final section ends with a repeat of the beginning text, marrying the new key with a mirroring eighth note pattern in the piano. ... Read More ...

God of All Creation

Beloved Friends This Sunday, November 20th, is National Transgender Day of Remembrance. In 1999, transgender advocate Gwendolyn Ann Smith held a small vigil in the Castro District in San Francisco to honor Rita Hester, a transgender woman who was killed in 1998. Over the years, others have joined in on this day, not with parades but instead in holding candle-light vigils to remember those who have who have lost their lives in acts of anti-Trans violence. The 2022 Annual Report of the Human Right Campaigns shared last week that at least 32 transgender and nonconforming people have been killed in the United States this year. This statistic is both horrifying and deeply troubling as we continue to live in a time when our trans siblings need not only advocacy but support and places of sanctuary. Trinity continues to strive to be one of those places and filled with people who understand and embrace ...

There's Room for Every Story

Beloved Friends- This Sunday we turn the page in our church calendar and begin the season of Advent. These are the four weeks we set aside every year to prepare our hearts to once again hear the story of how love came to dwell among us through the birth of Jesus on that cold dark night in an out of the way place to two scared and almost forgotten would-be parents. It is a story I not only never tire of hearing, but as I grow older, anticipate hearing as a necessary balm for my soul. It is a story passed down from generation to generation infused with the hope-filled expectation and imagination of a new world, a new way, a new reality. And this year, ...
